Printing tips

- Print at actual size (100%), not "fit to page".
- Card stock lasts longer. Or slip cards into plastic sleeves and use dry-erase markers.
- Every card is different, so up to 30 kids can play without repeats.
- Watch toddlers closely with small markers like buttons or beans.

Prints on US Letter and A4.

How to Play

Print one card per player, plus the calling cards

The basics

1. Cut the calling cards apart, fold them and put them in a bowl or a party hat.
2. Give every player a card and some markers: pom-poms, buttons or paper squares.
3. The caller pulls out one calling card at a time and reads it out.
4. Players cover the matching square. Little ones can win with any three squares.
5. First to finish a line shouts "Happy New Year!" instead of "Bingo!"
6. Year-in-review cards need no caller: cover every square that's true for you.

8 ways to play

1. One line wins

Across, down or diagonally. Short and fast.

2. Four corners

Cover all four corners of your card.

3. Blackout

Cover every square. Great for the last game before the countdown.

4. Countdown bingo

Play one round every hour. The last winner starts the countdown.

5. Noon Year's Eve bingo

Picture bingo for little ones, finishing at 11:59 a.m.

6. Team bingo

Two teams, one big card each on the wall.

7. Dance bingo

Every time you cover a square, do a little dance move.

8. Find someone who

Year-in-review card: find a friend for each square.

Prize ideas that aren't candy

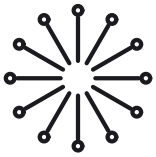

Pick the next song, choose the movie, be the next caller, bang the pots first at midnight.
